Response to Amendment

This Office Action is in response to a communication received on June 15, 2006.

Claims 1, 6, 11, 16, 21, and 26 have been amended.

Claims 1-30 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parasnis (6728753) in view of Baugher (5644715).

Regarding claims 1, 6, 11, 16, 21, and 26, Parasnis teaches an information reproducing method for displaying the same information on plurality of displays in synchronization with one another (Column 3, lines 63 – 67), said method comprising the steps of:

connecting displaying a plurality of terminal devices each said information display for making communications through a network (Column 3, lines 63 – 67);

delivering a first schedule data for recording said information on said plurality of terminal devices;

recording said information on said plurality of terminal devices in accordance with said first schedule data (Column 20, lines 45 – 48);

delivering a second schedule data for reproducing said information on said displays at a time arbitrarily selected by a user from a first terminal device which created said second schedule data to other terminal devices of the plurality of terminal devices through said network; and instructing terminal device of the plurality of terminal devices which receives said second schedule data to reproduce said information from among previously recorded information in accordance with said second schedule data (Column 20, line 66 – Column 21, line 10).

Parasnis does not explicitly indicate that the second schedule time should be received by the terminals at a time prior to the arbitrary time.

Baughner teaches a presentation invention that includes that the schedule time of the presentation is contained prior to the start time of the scheduled presentation (Column 5, lines 61 – 67).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use Baughner's teaching of having the terminal devices informed of the scheduled time before that time in order to allow the terminal devices in Parasnis prepare resources and connections in preparation for a scheduled presentation.

Regarding claims 2, 7, 12, 18, 22, and 27, Parasnis teaches that a terminal device to receive said information delivered from said first terminal device through said network, when information reproduced in accordance with said second schedule data has been recorded terminal device which receives said second schedule data (Column 20, line 66 – Column 21, line 10).

Regarding claims 3, 8, 13, 19, 23, and 28, Parasnis teaches that schedule data includes unattended-recording data recording predetermined information delivered at predetermined date and time (Column 24, lines 18 – 29).

Regarding claims 4, 9, 14, 17, 24, and 29, Parasnis teaches that said schedule data includes scenario data which special reproduction information together executed during reproduction of a lapse of time from a start reproduction (Column 20, line 66 – Column 21, line 10).

Regarding claims 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, and 30, Parasnis teaches the steps of: delivering manipulation data to other terminal devices of the plurality of terminal devices through said network, from a terminal device which executes special reproduction during reproduction said information, said manipulation data including at which the special reproduction is executed, the type of the special reproduction, and a time elapsed from the start of reproduction of said information; and instructing a terminal device which receives said manipulation data to calculate a position at which the special reproduction is started on said information based on said manipulation data, move a scene to said start position, and perform the same type of special reproduction as that performed by said terminal device which transmits said manipulation data from said start position to which the scene is moved (Column 20, line 66 – Column 21, line 10).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U. S. Patent No. 5577258 issued to Cruz, because it teaches preprocessing a presentation then having a second presentation schedule message to display the preprocessed objects.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
